AAUW Tahoe-Nevada awards almost $12,000 in Grant Funds to Incline Education Fund

Tahoe (NV) Branch

Incline Education Fund (IEF) is thrilled to announce the receipt of a trio of Community Education Grants from the American Association of University Women (AAUW) Tahoe-Nevada to support STEM learning at Incline Village schools.

It is no surprise to anyone that the the negative affects of the COVID pandemic have disproportionately affected student learning over the past few years. The good news is that targeted instruction and a focus on hands-on experiential learning opportunities have proven successful in erasing the learning losses since 2020. These AAUW grants will do just that.

IEF will direct the first of these AAUW grants to start a math literacy program at Incline Elementary School. This program will support those students who need additional attention to cement the math facts that will be the basis of their math education throughout the rest of their educational careers.

At Incline Middle School, the second of the AAUW grants will support an after-school Culinary Club where students will use science and math to create delicious meals, mastering STEM skills in a most experiential way.

IEF will direct the final grant to support the new Incline High School Engineering program. With a match provided by the IHS Boosters, IEF can finish the purchasing of needed classroom supplies. Enthusiasm for this program warranted an additional section, now totaling 38 students for this inaugural year.

These grants will provide the necessary seed funding to launch each of these programs. Additional support is needed to continue these initiatives through the end of the school year.
